

THE WORLD for 1877.

The New York World for 1877, daily, Semi-Weekly, and Weekly, will be found to be the cheapest and best newspaper published in the United States. It will be printed on a new improved form with new type upon the best paper, and no expense or labor will be spared to maintain it in every department at the highest possible standard, and to commend it in all respects to the confidence and approval of the best classes in the community without regard to political opinions or religious differences.

It will lay before its readers:

The News of the Day of all kinds and from all quarters, by mail and by telegraph, carefully condensed and lucidly arranged, special attention being given to all Commercial, Legal, Financial, Social, Criminal and Political Transactions in the city of New York and in the United States.

Full Reports, Reciting and Illustrating all Congressional and Legislative proceedings at Washington and Albany at Meetings of Importance, Religious, Literary, Educational, Scientific and Political; all Social Events, gay and grave, and Personal Information of interest to the public.

Correspondence expressly prepared for this Journal by a permanent staff of accomplished resident writers at all centers of interest throughout the world.

Literary News and Reviews by which our readers will be kept advised of everything worthy of attention in the current literature of Europe and America.

Criticisms of all notable works and notices of all notable events in connection with Music, the Drama, Painting, Sculpture and all other branches of art.

Editorial Articles upon every subject of present interest or importance.

For the principles by which the World will be governed in its discussion and treatment of all public questions, it will suffice to say that the World, while conservative in politics, desires the conservation only of what is good and wise in our public institutions and our political system; liberal in spirit, it admits no limitations upon the rights of private judgment and the aspirations of Reform, save those which are imposed by prudence, decorum and a rational respect for vested rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it has labored for the principles, and has the triumph of the Democratic party as affording us a practical promise of Reform in our public administrations city, state and national, it will not be blindly devoted to the advancement of any party or any clique. It will freely canvass the public conduct, while it will with respect the private rights of public men and it will examine fearlessly into the workings of our national, state and municipal governments.

Combined papers.—Forty seventh year!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

The Country Gentleman is published Weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: One Copy, one year, $3.70; Four Copies $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; Ten Copies $20, and additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

The Country Gentleman possesses unequalled Crops of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

The Country Gentleman gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

The Country Gentleman has probably done as much as all other Journals combined to introduce and disseminate improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

The Country Gentleman contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops as throwing light upon the most important of all questions.—When to Buy and When to Sell.

The Country Gentleman embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and Weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well edited Review of Current Events and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principle agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

Specimen Copies FREE Address, LUTHER TUCKER & SON, Pubs., ALBANY, New York.
